

PERSONAL GEAR LIST

What to bring on your Alaska Caribou Hunt
(Moose, Bear or Sheep Hunting too)

Here's our list of personal gear we suggest you bring along. Obviously, as an experienced hunter, you have a list of things you like to carry, but we've been taking people out into the field here in Alaska for over 20 years and there may be a few things you wouldn't think about.

In addition to your "normal" camp gear (i.e. camp stove, tents, cots, propane, etc) this is a suggested personal gear list, therefore, it may not be all inclusive and is subject to change:

- Framed backpack
- Folding saw with bone blade
- Rifle with 20 – 30 rounds of ammo
- Binoculars
- Knives/sharpener
- Good sleeping bag and pad (recommend down to -10 or -30 degree bag)
- Hip boots - i.e. Cabela's "Dry-Plus Breathable Waders" in waist-high stocking foot
- Clip-on suspenders for waist-high waders
- Flashlight
- Camera w/ extra batteries
- Water bottle (with filter if you desire)
- Insect Repellent (100% Deet)
- Stocking hat/gloves
- Top Quality Rain Gear – i.e. Helly Hansen Impertech
- Camp Shoes (insulated leather boots)
- 1 pair insulated hunting pants
- 1 pair non-insulated hunting pants – i.e. Cabelas un-insulated Dry-Plus Pants
- 2 pair top and bottom insulated underwear, med-heavy weight (DO NOT BRING COTTON)
- 2 – 3 hunting shirts
- Heavy weight socks, 1 pair for each day (wool)
- Heavy coat (with Gore-Tex)
- Cotton Game Bags
- Personal Toiletry Items
- Handheld GPS unit – helpful for finding your way in the wilderness
- IRIDIUM Satellite Phone is recommended for Unguided Hunters (1 phone per group). Iridium is about the only satellite phone that works good above the Circle.
- Batteries: Anything that you bring that requires batteries, will require spares! Keep your batteries in something warm (like a wool sock) while you're in the field – cold will drain the battery.
- SOFT gun case. When you arrive in Kotzebue, you'll be asked to take your rifles out of their hard cases for transportation into the field. If you'd like to keep them in a case, you'll need to bring a soft case with you!
